WILLKIE WILL SUPPORT FDR REPEAL PLANS

Announces He Will Back
President In Neutrality
Act Program

ROOSEVELT TALKS WITH HULL TODAY

Secretary Is Reported In Favor of "Going All
the Way"

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Wen-del L. Willkie made it known today
he would support President Roosevelt in any effort to repeal or modify the neutrality act.

At the same time, reports reached
Capitol Hill that Secretary Hull would urge the chief executive to recommend virtual scrapping of the present law.

Back In Capital

Returning from a weekend sojourn at his Hyde Park estate, Mr.
Roosevelt was expected to confer with Hull some time today and to talk with legislative leaders tomorrow before starting work on the special neutrality act message which congress looks for later this week.
The chief executive arrived in the capital before 9 a. m.

White House officials indicated
these two conferences probably would determine whether the President would seek a limited modification of the law or its outright repeal.

There have been reports the President would confine himself to a request for authority to arm American merchant ships. On the other hand, some informants have said he would tell congress he also should have the power to send American commercial vessels into belligerent ports
and combat areas now forbidden by the neutrality law. If both requests were granted, only a skeleton of the law would remain.

Hull, it was said on good authority, planned to ask the chief executive to "go all the way" in revising the present act. However, Hull was reliably reported to have informed associates that the whole revision question "now is in the jelly stage" and would not be finally settled until after Mr. Roosevelt talks with his congressional lieutenants.

"Ought to Be Changed"

Those congressional informants in close touch with Willkie, the 1940 presidential candidate, said he had advised them that he would give his support to any move to relax
the neutrality law.

"The law never should have been enacted in the first place," informants quoted him as saying. "I ought to be changed now, and I believe congress will change it."
Support for arming merchant
ships and sending them into zones
now forbidden came last night from Chairman Connally (D., Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee. In a broadcast address Connally said it was time for the United States to "reassert and reordain our adherence to the doctrine of freedom of the seas."

field and Lorain.

24 CZECHS DIE BEFORE NAZIS

Berlin Blames Moscow and
London For Fomenting
Trouble

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 30.—German firing squads have executed 24 Czechs
accused of plotting to throw off German rule, it was announced today, and spokesmen blamed Moscow and London for rebel preparations which led to the swift German counter-measures in the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia.
"London especially tried to start something in Paris, Norway and Holland, but it didn't work," a spokesman declared, "and before they got off to a good start in the protectorate we took a hand."
He intimated that German authorities had been aware for some time of "disturbing elements" in the protectorate but had waited patiently to determine who was involved before taking action.

Laud "Reasonable Czechs"

"We wanted to avoid dragging persons who had nothing to do with it into the affair," he said.
"Most Czechs saw the purposeless-ness of such politics. Reasonable Czechs saw the Germans did not intend to put them under the yoke
or suppress their culture."
Three former army leaders were among those executed. The announcement named them as General Joseph Bily, Division General
Hugo Votja and Brigadier General
Franz Horacek, and described them
as "leading men in the opposition
group which had as its goal the re-establishment of an independent Czech state."

The 24 persons were accused officially of trying "forcefully to separate the protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia (part of the former republic) from the reich."

District Coal Operators Will Form Organization

LISBON, Sept. 30.—A meeting of coal operators of Mahoning, Trumbull, Stark, Carroll, Jefferson and Columbiana counties will be held this evening. Approximately 150 strippers and deep mine operators expect to form an organization to promote the interests of the group.

Atty Joseph Sheban of Youngstown, chairman of a committee which recently appeared before the Bituminous Coal commission hearings in Washington, protesting the establishment of a $2.97 a ton as the maximum run-of-mine price for this district, will preside.

100 Seeking Papers

LISBON, Sept. 30.—Preliminary hearings on approximately 100
naturalization applications will be conducted in the courthouse Nov. 5, 6 and 7. Clerk of Courts John Coleman was informed today by the department of immigration and naturalization at Pittsburgh.

NAZIS SUFFER AIR SHORTAGE, PREMIER SAYS

But Churchill Warns That
Danger of Invasion
Still Exists

DEPENDS ON ACTION ON EASTERN FRONT

Shipping Losses Dropping;
Food Reserves Are Higher

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 30.—Germany is suffering a serious shortage in the air, Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons today, but she is so strong in every other respect that Britain's peril of invasion is not past and only "enormous" conversion of United States
factories to produce war material
can keep Russia on the firing line indefinitely.

"Sacrifices of the most serious
and extreme kind will be necessary
by the British people" also if Russia is to continue fighting, he stated, even while expressing optimism over Britain's general position.

Action Up To Germany

If Germany should take a defensive stand in Russia, it certainly would be in Hitler's power to launch simultaneously attacks
against Britain, Africa and Spain,
the prime minister declared in a broad review of the war situation
on this third anniversary of the ill-starred Munich pact which sought peace by appeasement of the Nazis.

Winter gives no assurance, he asserted, "that the danger of invasion will be entirely lifted from this island." He added he could say nothing of the possibility of a British invasion of the continent
"without giving information to the enemy."

In a broad picture of the military position on the third anniversary of the Munich pact which failed to produce peace, Churchill reported that British, Allied and neutral merchant shipping losses
during the past three months had dropped two-thirds from the three months before, told of the dispatch
of important war materials to Russia, and declared Britain's willingness to bomb Rome if necessary.

He said that during July, August and September Britain's "slaughter of enemy shipping is one and one-half times that of the three previous months, and is increasing
by leaps and bounds."

Very few important ships carrying munitions to Britain have been lost, he said.

which are maintained by the marine corps for the enlisted men.
Sergeant Grafton will be at the post office again Thursday for the purpose of interviewing applicants for the marine corps. He says that men enlisting now have their choice of enlisting for four years in the regular marine corps, or for the duration of emergency in the marine corps reserves. The ages for both are 17 to 30.

Leetonians Plan Grid Fete; See Team Play At Orrville

More Than 400 Reservations In For Special Train To Football Battleground Friday

A big day looms Friday in Leetonia High school's football history—it's "all-Leetonia" day.

It's not solely a football team affair, because practically the whole town's in on it.

You see, Coach Charles Mathers' Leetonia gridgers, rated one of the finest teams in the history of the school, will tangle Friday night
with the famous Orrville team, on the Orrville gridiron.

Leetonians are deservedly proud of their pigskin cohorts and so they're decided to make a festive occasion out of the whole affair,
as well as seizing upon the privilege of sitting in on what should be a swell football dish.
Coach Mathers and his squad will leave Leetonia at 3:15, and they're not going to slip away unnoticed.
The fact is, the entire school will turn out to form a parade, accompanied by private citizens, and led by the High school band. Thus the

$5 FINE ASSESSED IN ACCIDENT CASE

Diamond Man's automobile
Involved In Crash
Near Albany

Howard W. Stille, 37, of R. D. 2, Diamond, arrested by the state patrol on a charge of failure to observe a stop sign in connection with an accident at the junction of Routes 62 and 165 at Albany
Sunday afternoon, was fined $5
and costs yesterday by Mayor
George Wilson at Canfield.

Stille's car was involved in a two-car collision similar to the one Saturday night in which Paul Lieder, 30, of R. D. 1, Chardon, formerly of Salem, was fatally injured.

Bryan Is Injured

Lieder was riding in a car operated by Michael Grell, 33, of R. D.
1, Salem, which was hit by a car driven by Fred Bryan, 37, of 820
E. Fifth st., when Grell, according to the patrol, failed to observe a stop sign. Bryan, at first believed to have been uninjured, went later to the Central Clinic where he was treated for abrasions and contusions of the eyes, nose, chest and right knee.

Grell suffered a broken collar-
bone, Mrs. Grell and Mrs. Lieder received cuts and bruises.
Allen Hess, 49, of Columbiana, escaped uninjured at 5:30 a. m. today when his automobile struck a truck which had broken down on Route 46, about a mile south of Canfield, the state highway patrol reported.

No one was injured at 6 a. m. today when automobiles driven by Raymond St. Clair, 27, of Toledo, and B. C. Johnstonbaugh of Akron tangled at the intersection of Routes 45 and 224 at Ellsworth.

Leroy Pickett, 45, of Pittsburgh, was chased to Columbiana by the patrol and arrested on a charge of
"hit-skip" after his automobile

Persons attending the Salem
Apple Festival Thursday, Friday
and Saturday will find that the festival association has prepared a well-rounded program designed to keep them busy from morning until night.

Although the initial attempt at
such a celebration, the merchants,
agricultural leaders and others
promoting the affair, believe that they have left no stone unturned
in attempting to plan a varied festival program.
There will be apple guessing contests throughout the day, apple
grading demonstrations, a baby
parade, queen coronation, fruit growers meeting, free circus and vaudeville acts, pet parade, contests
for children, a queen's parade, innumerable displays of agricultural,
industrial and commercial exhibits,
prizes and premium awards and a dance as a closing feature Saturday night.

Master of Ceremonies

Coronation of Miss Gloria Virginia Harry, 19-year old Youngstown girl as queen of the apple festival, will take place at the speaker's platform, E. State st. and Broadway, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, following a short parade of festival aides and other dignitaries
from a point near the Elks home.
The Salem High school band will march as will the American Legion color guard.

Walter Strain, who will be mas-

crown on Miss Harry's head and will present her and her attendants
with a cup and trophies.

June Feicht of Greenford, Betty
Jane Roller, Norma West and Sally Moore of Salem.

Considerable attention is being directed toward the baby parade

Thursday. Babies, from the tiniest up to and including five years, are eligible to compete for the prizes

COUNTY GETS CASH FROM BOND FUNDS

$21,150 Transfer Expected
To Last Remainder
Of Year

LISBON, Sept. 30.—The tension
was eased in Columbiana county's financial operating difficulties late Monday when Common Pleas Judge
Joel H. Sharp granted an application of the commissioners, transferring $21,150.19 of an unincum-bered balance in the bond retirement fund to the general operating fund of the county.

The transfer of the funds, which the application stated are not needed in the bond retirement account, will enable the county to complete the year without a huge deficit, President Frank Fisher of the board stated, adding the sum will "see us through the year if we do not have any additional burden in the county's welfare program."

The commissioners today appropriated from the replenished general fund, to the following departments in which funds had been exhausted: Tuberculosis fund, $7,700, bringing to $32,700 the total for the year; blind pensions, $800, bringing to $10,300 the year's appropriation;
children's home, $4,000, making a $29,000 total; county home, $4,500
equaling $34,000 for the year.

Other appropriations from the fund include $1,500 for the purchase
of cattle to stock the county farm;
$1,500 for real estate reappraisal;
$700 for the board of county prisoners, in the Mahoning county jail,
and $300 to the office of clerk of courts for the purchase of automobile certificates of title.

Church Asks Mortgage

LISBON, Sept. 30.—Trustees of the First Baptist church of East Liverpool have filed an application
in common pleas court here seeking to encumber certain real estate for the purpose of purchasing a parsonage.

The property which the church
contemplates purchasing for the sum of $25,000 is located at 2464-65
in Robert Franklin Stewart's addition to the city of East Liverpool.

Booths, Bunting Go Up In Preparation For Big Celebration

Coronation of Queen Scheduled Thursday Night; Many Educational and Entertainment Events
On Three-Day Program

Display booths went up today and bunting decorated the fronts of many stores heralding the approach of Salem's first annual Apple Festival which will open officially Thursday morning and continue through the rest of the week.

Thousands of persons are expected to visit the city during the three-day celebration which is scheduled just in advance of the apple picking season. Agricultural figures from the 1940 census show that Columbiana county led Ohio with 590,944 bushels of apples harvested on 2,249 farms.

And a near record apple crop has been predicted for the state this year.

State highway department workers yesterday began the task of erecting detour signs to divert the Route 62, 14 and 45 traffic from the downtown area—center of the festival activities.

Work also began yesterday on the erection of the first display
booths which will line E. State st., between Lincoln and Ellsworth avenues, and S. Broadway, between State and Pershing streets.

Center of Activities

A large platform will be erected at the intersection of E. State st.
and Broadway to serve as a speaker's platform. This platform also will be the scene of the queen's coronation Thursday night, the awarding of the innumerable prizes
which are offered daily, free entertainment acts, etc. Another platform will be situated at the corner of State st. and Penn ave.
where free vaudeville acts also may be seen.

The circus attractions, which may be seen several times daily, will include Carmen and Cowley, comedy acrobats; Bernier Kelly's, animal circus which appeared at the New York World's fair; Tom and Betty Waters, tight wire performers.

The farm produce section will be housed in the first six booths immediately south of State st. on
S. Broadway. The apple displays will be the first six booths east and west of Broadway on State st.

Two large apple graders, which are expected to attract considerable attention, will be placed on S.
Broadway near Pershing st.

Farmers entering exhibits in the apple and produce displays are requested by Co-chairmen Ora Anderson and T. Emerson Smith to bring their entries to the headquarters at State and Broadway
Thursday morning, and no later than 12 noon.

Special guards have been hired
and already are on the job patrolling the festival district to watch, day and night, the equipment owned by the Salem Apple Festival.

Ohio 37th Hailed Fastest Division

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 29.—
Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler,
commander of Ohio's 37th division,
asserted today that his unit had proved in maneuvers here that it is
"the hardest hitting and fastest division in the army."

General Beightler said the Ohio
soldiers forced their way through situations so difficult that the enemy had given up without a defense, which apparently would have been useless.

The unit's motor equipment is
"the best in the world" and the envy of British observers with the 37th, he declared.

Division officers are using the 37th's record for speed to seek early clearance for the trip back to Camp
Shelby, Miss. The 43rd division from Camp Blanding, Fla., also has requested first movement from the maneuver area.

The Ohio regiments are assembling at Flatwood, La., to await orders.

General Beightler said a few weeks of training at Camp

IS THERE A NEUTRALITY ISSUE?

As old as the Constitution, which drew the line of separation, is the conflict between the divided authority of the executive and legislative departments. Insofar as there is a neutrality issue, it rises from the jealousy with which congress guards its authority over foreign affairs.

In the pre-war years, congress exercised this authority with a minimum of interference. The concept of neutrality legislation originated in congress. It became a law over the objections of President Roosevelt, who doubted its wisdom but did not veto it.

The law's purpose was to surround executive authority with restrictions that would prevent use of the authority in such a way as to plunge the United States into war. The law represented congressional mistrust in executive authority in event of war and particularly the authority of President Roosevelt. In the peace years, that didn't seem too important.

When war broke out and Mr. Roosevelt began to deal with conditions instead of theories, it was a foregone conclusion that neutrality legislation eventually would become exceedingly important. The Roosevelt administration quickly asked for revision of the original neutrality law. The President got what he wanted.

It is evident, that now he wants further revision, perhaps even outright repeal of the law—in effect, though not necessarily in fact. In his exercise of executive authority he has established national policies which run counter to the spirit of the neutrality law and are impeded by the law's letter. The congressional—and the popular—policy embodied in the original and revised neutrality has been denied by a combination of events and executive actions which cannot be rescinded.

The question now is should the law be changed to facilitate a continuation of executive policy, or should the law be left standing. In the latter case, the effect would be to hamper the Roosevelt administration's policy on foreign affairs and to necessitate perhaps more subtleties like those which already have been practiced to sidestep the neutrality law without directly violating it.

The question already has been answered. The law must be changed to suit the circumstances and facilitate the rapid effectuation of the Roosevelt administration's policies, or it will have the effect not of keeping the United States at peace but merely of complicating the effort to safeguard national security. The neutrality issue which congressional bitter-enders are preparing to agitate is not a neutrality issue at all. It is the ancient and threathare issue of authority over the conduct of foreign affairs.

FINLAND'S TICKLISH CASE

Years from now, unless the diplomats know how to walk on eggs without mishap, the Finnish precedent being forged by current circumstances will haunt them.

The precedent threatens to be this, if Great Britain succeeds in making its diplomatic point in an exchange of views with Finland: That Finnish security properly entails driving Russia back of the Finnish borders it violated in 1939, but no further.

In other words, if Finland continues to participate in the war on Russia past the point where it has reestablished its former territory, Great Britain, which counts Russia as an ally, must consider the Finns as aggressors and enemies. This seems to say that in the British view there can be no such thing as a justifiable war of defense in an enemy's territory. It ignores Finland's basic premise, which is that Finland's security never can be assured while Russia's army continues to be strong enough to threaten it. Finland's grand strategy calls for destruction of the Russian army, which explains why Finland and Germany are fighting companions, just as Great Britain and Russia are fighting companions because they share the common objective of destroying the German army.

The Finns are not in a comfortable diplomatic position, but then neither are the British. After all, if cooperation with Germany makes Finland a member of the Axis, which is Britain's contention, then cooperation with Russia might be said to make the British part of the Third Internationale.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, October 1

A HIGHLY active and enterprising day is forecast, with major objectives or ambitions fulfilled. There may be much popularity and prestige incident to this, although it may be costly as to financial extravagances or indulgences. It would, however, be advisable to care for the physical condition and that of the family.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a very active year with things both business and private moving at high tempo. Promotion, advancement and financial progress are shown, bringing much prestige and popularity. This may call for much outlay of funds in entertainment or other extravagances.

A child born on this day should be efficient and talented for public or professional life, where its popularity and influence will be enhanced by its warmth, good fellowship and hospitality.

WOULD HITLER LIKE TO QUIT?

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

"Would Hitler like to back out of the war at present and, if so, do you think he possibly could?"

This man-size query comes to me from Jacksonville, Florida—and I like the confidence shown in my ability to tell what is in the Fuehrer's mind. As though to help us out, we have from Berlin an emphatic denial of any attempts anywhere at peace feelers or peace negotiations by Germany.

Still, that denial isn't as useful as it might be, because while it may be truth, it isn't the whole truth, and begs the issue in our double-barrel question. The correct answers to be these:

Yes, the Nazi chief would like to get out of the war now, provided he could be left in domination of the continent of Europe. Who wouldn't!

No, I don't think he could get out of it. Just as he isn't likely to quit unless he cashes in on his conquests or is defeated, as the Allies have sworn that they never will stop until they have pulled him down.

Peace talk has been going the rounds quietly in Europe recently. My information is that some Axis supporters have been predicting Hitler would make the Soviet an offer of separate peace before the winter shuts down on the Russian front. If that venture were successful, he would make suggestions to England for terminating the war.

These Axis sources believe such a proposal to Britain would follow the lines of previously rumored plans. That is to say, Germany and England would be the dominant powers of Europe—with heavy accent on Germany. Sovereignty would be restored to those countries in which Britain has special interests, such as Norway and the Netherlands. All the other nations would come into Hitler's "new order" or be annexed by the reich.

In other words Hitler would be pretty much lord of all he surveyed on the continent. John Bull would be allowed to keep his shirt and his imperial connections.

One of our exchange paragraphers says: "Nobody knows, of course, what Lincoln would say and do if he were alive today." For that matter, we don't even know what the leaders of today are going to say and do one day ahead.

While the experts are burning their brains to cracklings trying to put a ceiling and roof on everything from prices to wages, they might give a little thought to ways of bracing the floor so the bottom won't fall out of things afterwards.

It's got so there isn't enough office space in Washington for the commissions that superseded the commissions that took over the jobs of the first commissions.

IT'S REALLY A WINTER DISEASE

Rheumatism, Its Effects and Control Discussed

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The infection known variously as acute inflammatory rheumatism, or acute rheumatic fever, occurs in a limited geographic distribution in the United States. But it is important to everyone because in a certain proportion of cases the convalescents from the infection are invalids for life and may migrate into any region, so that the end results are seen all over the country.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest, only, and then only through his column.

It is a winter disease, and one of wet, cold climates. It is familiar in Canada, the northern states and the Atlantic seaboard as far south as New York. It is hardly seen at all in the middle west, southern, and southwestern states.

A doctor friend of mine from Canada, visiting my hospital wards some years ago, said, "But I don't see any acute rheumatism: my wards are full of it this time of year." He would hardly believe what I told him, that we had very little of it, but not long afterward sent him a report from Omaha showing that the hospital admissions of acute rheumatism there over a period of years were one-twentieth what they were in Montreal.

An Infectious Disease. Acute articular rheumatism is an infectious disease, but although a report of the discovery of the cause comes out about every five years, the germ which is responsible is still unidentified. In the last edition of Cecil's Practice of Medicine it is classified under "Diseases of Doubtful or Unknown Origin." Streptococci which lodge in tonsils, sinuses and throats seem to save something to do with it.

It begins with a high fever, trenching sweats and acutely inflamed, swollen, red, painful joints. It may attack one or two joints one day, the next day leave them and go to others.

But the joint symptoms are not those which make the disease notable or dangerous. Rheumatic fever is the great cause of heart disease the world over. Practically all the cases of valvular disease of the heart are due to an attack of rheumatic fever in young life. That is what I meant by saying above that the disease is important everywhere: a child in Massachusetts may have rheumatic fever which affects the heart. Later on the family migration or marriage may bring that child, now an adult, to the Middle west. And there valvular heart trouble manifests itself, so the effects of the disease are found everywhere.

Fever Has Different Forms. There are different forms of this fever and it may settle on the heart alone and not in the joints.

If it were simply an acute fever which inflamed the joints temporarily, it would not be very serious. These acute joint swellings can be controlled by the use of the salicylate medicines—which include aspirin.

But it has been determined beyond any peradventure of a doubt, that if the patient is to be saved from future heart trouble, a long period of rest should follow every case of acute rheumatic fever. This is not always easy to persuade the patient to accept. After a few weeks in bed he feels quite well and can see no reason for further convalescence. But at all costs, the family and the physician must persuade him that months rather than weeks should elapse before he resumes full activity. We have several good tests of full recovery. If the pulse rate changes and varies it means longer rest. The blood sedimentation test is a good guide. With impatient patients we can often persuade them to stay put, if we promise them activity when this objective test returns to normal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

P. A. R.: "Would you consider a four-year-old child too young to have a tonsil operation? Would such an operation be dangerous?"

Answer: No. Four years old is not too young for a tonsil operation provided there is real evidence that the tonsils are infected and doing harm. The operation is not dangerous in skillful hands.

J. K.: "Does athlete's foot infect the toe nails? What are the symptoms and treatment?"

Answer: Yes, ringworm of the toenails occurs. When it involves the nail bed, there is inflammation, swelling, redness and pus formation. The toenail often becomes loose and falls out. Less severe infection causes dull, brittle nails. The best treatment is by X-ray. It is very stubborn and resistant to treatment.

G. W. M.: "Can you tell me what the patch test for tuberculosis is? What is a positive and what is a negative? Is it to be depended on for adult use? Is there any place I can write about tuberculosis and its cure?"

Answer: The patch test is the application of a patch of gauze saturated with tuberculin to the intact skin of the arm and held in place for 48 hours. A positive test is the appearance of a red spot. All tuberculin tests are of most value in children and young adults and become increasingly unreliable as age advances. For information about tuberculosis consult your county Board of Health, or your state Board of Health, or the National Tuberculosis Association.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be

For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

CONVICT MOTHER OF POISONING TOT

Wanted Pretty Clothes and
To Go to Movies, She Tells Court

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Catharine Keiper, 21, attractive, the mother of two small sons, wanted to earn money so she could buy clothes and go to the movies. But the wife of Willis, Jr., 18 months, and Andrew, four months, interfered.

Thursday she will be sentenced to two to 15 years in Marysville reformatory, a sentence made mandatory by her conviction last night on a charge of administering poison—a disinfectant—to Andrew.

On Aug. 14 she took her youngest son to a hospital and asked that he be kept there because he was not eating his food. It was brought out at the trial. The doctors advised home treatment. She left the baby with a neighbor and went to the job she had taken to supplement her husband's income. The baby became ill, and at the hospital that night disinfectant was removed from his stomach. He has since recovered, and with his brother is being cared for by an aunt.

On the witness stand yesterday Mrs. Keiper admitted she wanted the baby in the hospital so she might be free to earn money for clothes.

"It wasn't just the clothes," she said. "It was the finances at home." She then admitted she also wanted to go to shows without hindrance, but denied giving disinfectant to the baby.

The husband and father, now unemployed, attended the trial but was not called as a witness.

A jury of eight women and four men deliberated seven and one-half hours last night and were asked by Common Pleas Judge Joy Seth Hard whether there was any chance of agreement.

John G. Walton, foreman, replied that there was "a little bit of a deadlock" and asked: "Do you think there is any justification for one or two persons holding out?"

The judge read a court decision declaring jurors should "counsel with each other" and not be "stubborn or obstinate." Polling the jury, he found each expressing the opinion a verdict could be reached. A half hour later the verdict was returned.

Progressive Mothers Hear Talk By Specialist In Youth Work

"Common sense is much more important than college degrees" in achieving a successful family life, declared Mrs. Garry Cleveland Myers, child development and parent education authority, speaking for Progressive Mothers and guests last night at the library assembly room.

Mrs. Myers, specialist in youth work, is associate editor of the magazine, "Children's Activities," published in Chicago. Her husband is editor of the magazine and both are nationally known lecturers, teachers and writers.

Her subject last night was "Relationship Between Parent and Child." Between Parents and Children.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul H. Wood, pastor of the church, in the presence of a group of relatives. Presiding the ceremony, Mrs. William E. Clendenin, Jr., of East Palestine played a ten minute program of nuptial music, including "At Dawn," "Indian Love Song," "The Bells of St. Marys," "O Promise Me" and the wedding marches. During the ceremony, soft strains of "I Love You Truly" were heard.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her dress of white moire taffeta, jacket over a full net skirt. She wore a single string of pearls and carried a bouquet of white roses, gardenias and Stephanotis. Her shoulder length veil was held by a Juliet cap.

Miss Janet Miller, bridesmaid, wore a dress of rose taffeta with long full skirt and matching shoulder veil and Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze mums. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served for the bridal party and members of the immediate family at Valley golf club. The "T" shaped table was decorated with white candles in crystal holders and bouquets of mixed flowers.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. After the dinner a reception was held at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton left for a week's motor trip. Upon their return they will reside with the bride's parents. Mrs. Fullerton is a graduate of Columbiana High school and attended Youngstown college, where she was a member of Alpha Iota sorority. She is employed by the Union Banking company.

Mr. Fullerton was graduated from Columbiana High school and attended Newberry college at Newberry, South Carolina. He is employed by Harry Dill Plumbing Co.

Mrs. Harold Keefer Is Honored

Mrs. Harold Keefer was presented a shower of handkerchiefs, honoring her birthday anniversary, by members of the Do Be There club, who were entertained last night at the home of Mrs. Michael Yunk, Prospect st.

Mrs. Leroy Sell, Mrs. Perry Young and Mrs. Carl Menning won the "500" prizes. Lunch was served.

Next Monday night the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Roberts, 784 E. Fifth st.

Methodist Group 1 Will Convene

The meeting of Group 4 of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service, scheduled for Oct. 1, has been postponed until Oct. 8, at the church at 2 p. m.

Mrs. John Wingard and Mrs. Lois Bixler will be hostesses.

A special program has been arranged. All members are asked to attend.

Children. Declaring that it is important to reduce conflict in the home, the speaker pointed out that a certain amount of conflict is necessary to arrive at better understanding. "Patterns of families" differ widely, she said, explaining that families of the parents produce different inherited tendencies and attitudes.

Mrs. Myers, stressing the value of using common sense to solve family problems, pointed out that every family problem must be solved individually and that books and theories merely help. "The successful mother is one who makes herself less necessary each year," she believes that, though mothers often do too many good things outside of the home, outside interests are necessary if she is to 'keep up' mentally and spiritually.

It is her opinion that "the successful home and family are hard to achieve today than in the last generation," because of new outside interests which leave less time for the home.

The talk was followed by an open discussion and question period. Mrs. Myers was entertained at a dinner in the Hotel Lape by a group of the Mothers circle members before the talk.

Lydia Bible Class Entertained

Mrs. George D. Keister, Mrs. Park Newhouse and Mrs. Allen Helmick were hostesses to the Lydia Bible class of the Trinity Lutheran church last night at the Keister home on S. Union ave.

Miss Sadie Schaefer was leader of the topic, "The Study of Religion." The scripture reading subject was "Light for Today."

Games were enjoyed and lunch was served during the social hour. About 30 members attended.

The place for the Oct. 27 meeting will be announced later.

Announce Marriage of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. George Rice of Canfield announce the marriage, Aug. 25, of their daughter, Enid, to Oscar Weingart, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weingart of R. D. 4, Salem.

Rev. C. A. Lang performed the ceremony at his home in Austintown. The couple was unattended.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Weingart left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. They are making their home with his parents.

Pipe Full
INDIANAPOLIS — Four-year-old John Robert Atkins, playing near his home, found a pipe sticking out of the ground. He put his foot in it.

The foot wouldn't come out. John

then a police emergency squad.
The policemen dug a hole two and a half feet deep around John Robert and unscrewed the pipe at a joint.

Then they cut off his shoe and he pulled his foot out and went home.

New 10 Per Cent Federal Tax Will Be Effective Tomorrow

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—You can't stall the missus past today on the fur coat, diamond wrist watch or expensive perfume she wants, or it will cost you 10 per cent more.

Today is the last day that fur,
jewelry and toilet preparations may be purchased free of the new 10 per cent federal tax. All the new excise levies of the $3,553,400,000 tax bill
go into effect tomorrow, but these three are the only ones that apply directly to retail transactions.

You don't have to pay cash today to escape the tax, but you've got to take the goods home. Uncle Sam says that unless the purchased item is delivered before Oct. 1 the tax must be paid on it.

This also means that people who have bought such items on the "lay-away" plan better get their purchases home by tonight, or the government will claim that the purchases were not completed until after Oct. 1 and will collect the tax.

However, any one who still owes payments on a watch, for instance,
but has possession of it before tonight can forget about the new levy.

It won't do daddy much good to rush down to the store to beat the other new excises, however, because they are to be paid by the manufacturers. These include new taxes on sporting goods, cameras, photograph records and a number of other items, as well as increased taxes on such things as automobiles. Theoretically, the consumer won't have to pay the new tax on these items until goods actually manufactured after Oct. 1 are sold at retail. Actually, of course, some merchants may boost prices on these items earlier.

The extra jolt in the income tax
won't be felt until next March 15
when the first quarterly instalment
of the 1941 tax will be due.

Names Committee Of High Students

LEETONIA, Spt. 30.—Principal J.
L. McBride appointed a committee of seven high school students to be known as the public relations committee, to function as the official gatherers and compilers of news
and happenings in the various high school departments.

Those selected and the departments they will report are: Elaine Aiken and John Carlisle, academic activities; Michael Carey and William Lodge, athletics; Mildred Marshall and Georgeanna Beaver, social activities; Anita Stewart, girls' activities.

The monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers association was held Monday evening at the High school building with the president,
Wilber Stratton, in charge.

Porter Aiken, area supervisor of the Columbiana county adult education program, presided at the panel discussion on the topic, "Consumer Education." Plans were made for a membership drive during October.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Holt, Jr., and daughter Marian were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Platt at Youngstown.

Club Hears Talk On Salem Apple Fete

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 30.—In the absence of the scheduled program Monday evening at the meeting of the Columbiana Rotary club at Valley Golf club, Rotarian Ralph W. Hawley, Salem, was called upon to tell about the Salem Apple Festival, to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

He told of the purpose of the event and pointed out that it is being sponsored by the apple growers of Northern Columbiana and Southern Mahoning counties. Salem's main business streets will be closed to traffic for the three days and all displays and entertainment features will be held out-of-doors.

Other visitors at the meeting were H. A. Tuttle, Youngstown; Fred Emery and Ray Pearce, Salem. President P. R. Corey appointed A. L. Wells, J. A. Crawford and H. A. Fullerton as a committee to meet with Columbiana High School Coach Robert Payne and plan the organization of a Booster club to back athletic and entertainment events of the local school.

Elwood Culp has returned to his home from the Salem City hospital following an appendicitis operation.

What Say?

CHILLICOTHE, Mo.—If the footballers of Warrensburg Teachers college had brushed up on Spanish, they might have averted a defeat by Chillicothe Business college.

Muncio Torres, native of Mexico and a new Chillicothe player, can't speak or understand English very well. So Peter Mendez of Ecuador, another player outlines each play called by the quarterback—in Spanish!

'Hey, Let Me Out of Here!'

Keepers at Brackenridge Park Zoo in San Antonio, Tex., prepared a new home for Punchie, the hippopotamus, then found the 7,000-pound beast didn't want to move. They convinced him only after a seven-hour battle. Punchie is shown almost upsetting the truck as he tries to leap over the side and return to his old quarters.

24 CZECHS KILLED BY FIRING SQUADS

Berlin Blames Moscow and
London For Fomenting

Just when the 24 persons were not followed by not more than 40 hours the declaration of a state of civil emergency in six populous districts of the protectorate by Reinhard Heydrich, chief of the Gestapo security service who has become new reich's protector of Bohemia and General Votja was deputy commander of the army corps at Bratislava.)

Three Years Ago

It was three years ago today, early in the morning, that heads of Germany, Britain, France and Italy signed at Munich an agreement providing for gradual occupation by Germany of parts of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten areas. The Munich agreement climaxed a period of tension over the Czechoslovak question.

On that same day British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain flew back to London and said there had been gained at Munich "peace with honor . . . peace for our time". The concessions gained by Germany at Munich led eventually to the break-up of the little republic which grew out of the World War.

An inkling of ramifications of the alleged plot came from DNB, which quoted the Czech press as saying itinerant groups of Czechs had been buying up and collecting arms of all sorts.

The revolt in which the arms were to be used, DNB said, was scheduled to begin soon.

Two men named especially as members of the wandering arms buyers, Ladislav Komzak and Wencel Franc, were among those shot. There was no word on the fate of the Czech premier, General Benes Elias, who was charged with premeditating high treason. He was turned over to the German people's court, and appeals from this court go only to Adolf Hitler.

War Briefs

(By Associated Press)

ROME, Sept. 30.—The Italian government approved today a measure nationalizing all "enemy-owned" industries which had been sequestered since Italy entered the war. The cabinet also approved measures to increase Italy's food crops.

One measure authorized the cultivation of idle lands. Another appropriated funds for bonuses which Mussolini promised farmers.

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 30.—The Swiss minister to Britain has protested as "a grave violation of Switzerland's air space" the passage of some 50 British planes the night of Sept. 28-29 presumably squadrons which heavily raided Italian cities, the foreign office announced today.

CHUNGKING, Sept. 30.—The Japanese army landed a small detachment of parachute troops yesterday at Chuchow, important rail junction 30 miles south of bitterly-battled Changsha, but all were either killed or driven away, a Chinese military authority declared today.

ROME, Sept. 30.—Sharp fighting by Italian expeditionary forces between the Dnieper river and one of its tributaries was reported today by the Italian high command which said the battle-ground was littered with Russian dead. Italian troops were said to be mopping up the remains of four Russian divisions—approximately 60,000 men—with more than 5,000 prisoners already taken.

The Virgin Islands, bought by the United States from Denmark in 1917, consist of 50 islands, of which five are inhabited.

A Florida spring yields 800,000-900 gallons of water a day.

Hospital's Hostage

Phonephoto

Three-year-old Dale C. Jones is shown in the arms of his father, Carl Jones, who recovered the child from Maryland General Hospital in Baltimore only after obtaining a writ of habeas corpus. The hospital had refused to release the boy until a $24 bill was paid, but the court ruled otherwise.

New Fighter Planes Speed to Army Service

Lockheed Interceptors, regarded as among the most formidable fighting planes in the world, are shown speeding on a mass delivery flight from Burbank, Cal., to Army Air Corps headquarters in the East. These P-38's can ascend into the sub-stratosphere to combat bombers flying above 30,000 feet.

Queen of Milkmaids

Mrs. Darwin R. Williams

NAZIS SUFFERING SHORTAGE IN AIR

But Churchill Warns That
Danger of Invasion

He asserted that "Our reserves of food stand higher than at the outbreak of the war."
"There will be better Christmas dinners this year than last year and at the same time more justification behind those dinners."

"We are now within a measurable distance of an immense flow of American new building which, together with our own production, we look too carry us through 1942 and along progressively to the end of the war," he declared.

However, he warned that "we must U-boat warfare conducted by a larger number of U-boats than ever before will be intensified."

The "enemy's air shortage" is a very serious shortage but for the rest he still retains "the initiative," he said. "He has the divisions, the weapons and the ample means of transportation in Europe."

"Many important supplies have already been dispatched to Russia," he asserted.

There is no way of telling which way Hitler will turn next, whether to the Nile, Spain, Africa or England, he declared.

He said Britain would bomb Rome to the best of our ability and as heavily as possible if the course of the war should render such action convenient and helpful.

In the first seven months of 1941, more than 58,000 automobiles entered California, the influx being attributed largely to expanding defense work.

Soap is added to most automobile greases to give them the oil and staying power which they do not possess naturally.

BARRED SEVENS by MARYSE RUTLEDGE

SYNOPSIS

Aboard a ferry, enroute to visit his fiancée, Jane Rider, David Farland prevents an attractive young woman from jumping overboard. The hysterical girl entrusts him with an envelope, requesting that he deliver it to the socially prominent Richard Garrison, if she does not call for it within a week. Noting a couple watching them, the girl's eyes dilate with fear. "I knew he wouldn't play fair!" she exclaims and dashes away, dropping a compact initialed "C. B." and a pamphlet entitled, "Americans, Warning!" On the train, David discovers the envelope is missing from his pocket. At her home in Haverstraw, as Jane prepares to meet David, her thoughts go to Kurt Helm, the writer, who rented the old log cabin nearby. At first he had been fascinating, but last night he had changed suddenly, "I shouldn't have come to this place," Kurt said. "Lean people living on fat lands, thinking of nothing while the world blows up around them." Then he went on to threaten to take Jane away from David. At the station, David sees the mysterious woman again. He asks Jane to follow her taxi, but they lose sight of it. Running out of gas, they walk to a nearby garage where they encounter Mat Breanu, Broadway big shot, and his friend, Pan Rubley. David introduces himself, hoping to promote business for the swank sports store where he works. Breanu keeps his eyes glued on Jane while Mrs. Rubley encourages the loquacious David to talk about himself. He is about to show her a newspaper clipping in which he tells an inquiring photographer he wanted to be "on top."

CHAPTER FOUR

David, rather nervously, pulled the tabloid from his pocket. Something thudded to the wooden floor. Jane stared down at it, her teeth biting at her lower lip. It was a woman's compact, an expensive one. She heard Mrs. Rubley's gasp. Nat Breanu moved like quicksilver. He snatched at the compact, held it cupped in his palm. "How did you get this?" His voice was low, dangerous; his eyes narrowed on David. Their group stood apart from the loiterers in the garage. But it seemed to Jane, in that breath-taking instant, that the charged air between David and Breanu must explode. She pressed closer to David. His expression was blank; then he thrust out his chin.

"What business is it of yours? Give that back to me, Mr. Breanu." He wasn't a kid any longer.

The "Broadway big shot" threw aside Mrs. Rubley's restraining hand. "Keep out of this, Fan!" He turned back to David. "I must know." His voice gathered storm, deep in his throat.

This wasn't mere anger, Jane thought, watching his face. The man suffered, as if his heart had been suddenly wrenched. Why didn't David tell? That woman on the ferry—

"Give it back," David's muscles hardened under Jane's hold.

"Your car's ready, Mr. Breanu." Jo, the garage man, walked up dejectedly. "I sent a man down the road to fill your tank, Miss Jane," he added, staring inquisitively from one to the other.

It was a deadlock. Jane's clear brown eyes met Breanu's, and she acted on impulse; her back turned to the others, so that only Breanu heard her whisper. "Please give David back that compact," she urged. "Trust him. Perhaps he can help. He doesn't know anything about this—he truly doesn't."

Breanu raised the curtain of his heavy lids. There was gentle admiration and melancholy in his look. "You win, Miss Rider," he said. With one of his lightning movements, he slipped the round, initialed compact into her hand.

The garage man had gone. Breanu turned to David, pointing his stick. "I have surrendered to this charming young lady's request. She has the compact," he said stiffly. "But make no mistake, Farland. You're meddling with dynamite. Give either me or Dick Garrison a ring on Monday. Surely an enterprising salesman like you knows who Dick Garrison is!" A faint sneer came and went on his dark, handsome face. Then, gracefully, he raised Jane's hand, brushing her fingertips with his full red lips.

No one had ever kissed her hand before, in this foreign way. Jane reached as David scowled. He didn't like it at all. Then, too, his mind was working ominously. Garrison was the man the woman on the ferry had asked him to hand the envelope over to—the envelope someone had stolen from his pocket between the ferry and the train.

"Give that compact back to me, Mr. Breanu," David demanded.

"I'll get in touch with you, all right, Mr. Breanu," David promised, gruffly as he jammed his brown felt over his unruly red hair.

Fan Rubley nodded to Jane, but her round, startled gaze was on David. Her hand went out to him. David took it without bending.

A faint, delicious perfume drifted from her. Where had he—? Yes, he had smelled that same perfume when he cragged that other woman back from the ferry rail.

He turned, with a cautious glance toward Breanu, as he swaggered to his car, surrounded by mechanics and on-lookers.

"If you get into any trouble, come to me," Fan Rubley whispered. "Mat's upset."

Jane watched them, a step away. She told herself steadily that she wasn't jealous. Mat Breanu, the blonde, the tragic woman who must somehow be involved in all of this, didn't belong in her life—or David's.

"Dave," she called, softly, "We'd better be going home."

Breanu was standing beside the white car, looking back, twirling his stick; impatient.

"I hope to see you again," the blonde said, in a friendly way to Jane, and went quickly to Breanu.

The limousine's powerful engine purred off into smooth speed.

Jane clung to David along the black stretch of road from the garage to her little car. Thank Heaven, she was alone with him at last!

There were rustlings of insects in the undergrowth. Clumps of thin bushes gleamed milky in the dark.

The man hurrying past them, jumped out from shadows, skirting the roadside. He went soundlessly by, without a word, although David called out, "Hello, there."

Jane laughed shakily. "Why, he's the mechanic Jo sent to fill up the tank. Didn't you see the cans he carried? I'll get the bill Monday."

"The bill's my affair," David made his voice very loud, and yelled at the vanishing figure. "Hey, there—"

"Don't get him back," Jane begged, in a small voice. "Please, David—"

The old coupe was where Jane and David had left it, humped to one side of the lonely road. It seemed a far cry from the garing lights of Jo's garage, the sleek white limousine, and the tension between Mat Breanu and the fiery David.

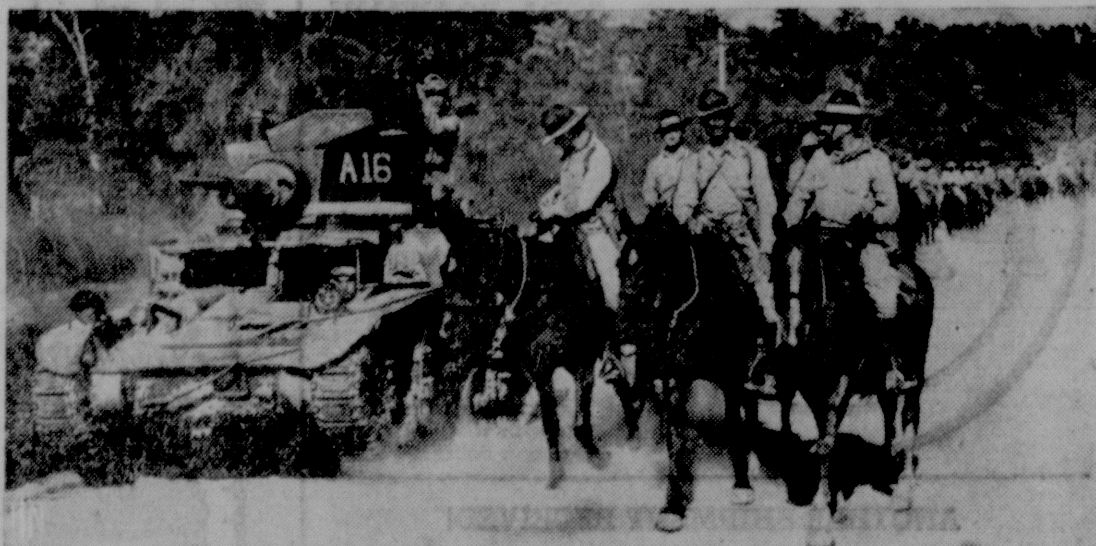

Jane wondered again why the black compact, fallen from David's pocket, had caused such a flare-up. She handed it to David. "I wish—"

she began. He dropped the enameled bauble into his pocket, and said to Jane, "I wish you hadn't interfered. Breanu knew he couldn't get away with any funny business with me."

"Yes? Jane was angry. "I don't think Breanu lets people get away with things easily. Why didn't you explain how you got that compact?" She went on coolly. "I watched that Mrs. Rubley. She knows something about that woman on the ferry."

"You better keep out of this, Jane," David advised gruffly. They were on the verge of a quarrel, Jane thought. But then David laid his hand on her shoulder, and drew her to him, saying, "Sorry, sweet." Her

Death on the Highway

RECENT APPALLING INCREASES IN COLUMBIANA COUNTY TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS SERVED AS INSPIRATION FOR THE FOLLOWING:

Beware of the reaper, for he's never still,
He'll meet you on curves, on the highway or hill,
He sits with the driver who's reckless as hell,
You may be the next one, you can never tell.

Many were killed on the highway this year,
Most of them could be avoided, I hear.
If people were careful and not drive so fast,
But death intervened and won out at last.

Young people desire a dangerous thrill,
When they race other cars and pass on the hill,
They think that they're clever to go on a lark,
And then flirt with death as they speed through the dark.

He is so much wiser, the skeleton with scythe,
For everyone some day is chosen to die.
He uses the highway for horrible wrecks
In beheading bodies and break a few necks.

Five-inch splinters are pushed through the skull,
When death's on a rampage, no moment is dull.
Some bodies are twisted into one bloody mass,
The joy rides are ended forever, alas!

A few scalps ripped off as neat as a pin,
The cars are all crushed as if made of tin.
If you ever expect to come home alive
It pays to use caution when out on a drive.

Remember all those who were killed in this way,
And use common sense when you drive night or day
Courtesy always will help cut the number
Of people to rest in eternal slumber.

State Patrol and Police will help in this cause,
They want you to know and respect all road laws.
So you will be safer for many days hence
Because you have used just your good common sense.

— Mrs. J. A. Bower

Leningrad, Where Reds Fight to Hold Back Nazis

Gates of Russia's second city, Leningrad, today are the scene of a great battle as the Russians seek to prevent the capture of the city by the Germans. Nazi infantry, according to reports, stormed the Red defenses again and again while attack bombers blasted the city. Russian official war reports stated that the Red army was repelling attack after attack on the approaches to the city over battlefields littered with German dead and the wreckage of Nazi tanks. In this picture the Republic bridge is in the foreground.

LITTLE CHATS ON PUBLIC NOTICES

By J. E. Pollard, Journalism Professor,
Ohio State University

Across The Years

A 60-year-old man got considerable attention some time ago when a New York court awarded him $100,000 from the estate of his daughter. But it was neither his age nor the amount of money thus granted that focused the spotlight on him. It was the still stranger fact that he had disappeared 61 years earlier, leaving his wife and baby daughter. Nothing had been heard of him meanwhile.

His family was so sure he had ceased to live that the daughter's will gave instructions to disregard anyone appearing after her death who might claim to be her father. Yet when the missing parent turned up he was able to convince the court of his identity as well as to his claim to a share in the estate.

Such a case seldom arises, perhaps not once in 1,000,000 times.

Yet rare as it was, it illustrated again the reason for the law's insistence that due notice be given. This is so that all possible claimants with any reasonable grounds for their claims may have time to present them. This is one of the major purposes served by the public notice which is most commonly seen in newspapers of general circulation, thus insuring wide coverage. Its use safeguards the rights of both society and the individual.

Ohio Hospitals Aid
In Training Nurses

COLUMBUS, Sept. 30.—Ohio hospitals are in the vanguard in the matter of providing some relief for the nationwide shortage of nurses, according to Worth L. Howard of Akron, president of the Ohio Hospital association.

"The shortage of nurses was one of the principal topics at the 3rd annual convention of the American Hospital association in Atlantic City last week," said Mr. Howard. "Dr. Winford H. Smith, director of Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, and chairman of the preparedness committee of the American Hospital association, said that whereas the situation already is strained, it probably will be more so by the end of 1942 at which time there will be need for 13,500 additional nurses by government agencies. That includes the Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

"Ohio hospitals have anticipated this shortage and are already training a large number of nurse-aids who will relieve trained nurses of much of their detail work and permit them to devote their time to the professional aspect of nursing. Nurse-aids can be trained in three to six months."

Brooklyn Dodgers And New York Yankees Set For Opener

FIRST GAME OPENS IN YANK STADIUM AT 1:30 WEDNESDAY

Wyatt Expected to Pitch For "Dem Bums"; Ruffing for Yankees

By JUDSON BAILEY
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees are all set for tomorrow's opening game of the World Series, with Whitlow Wyatt, the bald, squeaky-voiced Georgian, ready to take the mound against Charley (Red) Ruffing, veteran ace of the Yankees.

The managers of the two pennant-winners delayed announcing definitely their starting choices until after the teams had worked out again today, and Leo Durocher of the Dodgers said he might not select his first flier until tomorrow morning, but from players of the competing clubs it was learned that Ruffing and Wyatt, the obvious choices, had been instructed to get ready to pitch the first game.

Wyatt, who became 32 years old Saturday, won 22 games and lost 10 for the Dodgers during their National league struggle and pitched most of their critical contests, including that which clinched the pennant last Thursday at Boston.

Expect to Win First
An American league castoff he was one of the outstanding hurlers of the entire season. His prestige is so great that he may make the Dodgers an even-money shot to win the initial game starting at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at Yankee stadium.

This will be Wyatt's first World Series, but Ruffing, big 35-year-old right-hander ace of the American league champions, has pitched in seven series games, winning five and being charged with one defeat. He bagged only 15 games this season, but was not used nearly as often as Wyatt.

A capacity crowd of about 70,000 was expected to jam the Yanks' big concrete stadium for the first game, although the day was expected to be cloudy and there was a possibility of showers. In event of any delay, the subsequent schedule simply will be pushed back a day. As fixed by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis the first two games will be played at Yankee stadium Wednesday and Thursday, the next three at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, Friday, Saturday and Sunday; and if more are necessary, the teams will return to Yankee stadium for sessions Monday and Wednesday. The open date before the seventh game is to allow time to sell and distribute tickets.

This will be the sixth subway series for New York. It is the 12th time in 21 years that the Yanks have been in the big show, but only the first time in the same length of time that the Dodgers have been up there.

The Yankees are coming up to the annual spectacle favored 1 to 5 in the betting, as against the 12 to 1 odds which the town's leading place-layers. This vast difference in odds was based on the Yankees' superior fielding, their proven record of hitting their peak in the World Series (they have swept their past two, from Chicago in 1938 and Cincinnati in 1939) and their well-balanced power attack headed by Joe DiMaggio.

The Dodgers, however, are conceded a slight edge in the pitching

BOWLING RESULTS

Althouse Motors led the way in Quaker City league bowling on Grate alleys Monday night by pouncing the maples for three games over 900, giving them a healthy total of 2789, 925 and 955 they took three from Gonda Engineers, Earl Grate posted 611 on games of 205, 192 and 214. Armstrong contributed a 203, Althouse a 222 and Willis an even 200.

In spite of this showing the Althouse five failed to gain on the Golden Eagle team, which annexed three from the Salem Motors and leads the league without a defeat. Arco Paints won two from the Masons, Salem Polo two from Hawks and Bliss took all three from Coys.

In the American league Peoples Lumber pulled into a tie with Fernengels for first place by taking three from the electric Furnace while Fernengels had to be content with only two wins from Firestones.

Lease Drugs won two from Demings and Fitzpatrick topped the American Laundry two out of three.

AMUSEMENT TAXES MUST BE PAID BY FOOTBALL CROWDS

That's the News Affecting Scholastic Grid Fans This Week

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Sept. 30.—Today's big news on the scholastic football front doesn't affect the players much, but it does hit every fan who buys a ticket during the remainder of the campaign.

Starting tomorrow every ticket will be subject to amusement tax—one cent on each dime or fraction thereof—so you'll have to pay a few cents more each time you watch the boys perform.

Under the new federal tax program effective Oct. 1, the exemption of all school functions from the levy is erased. In former years the schools were exempt through classification as "an instrumentality of the state," but those days are gone. Parochial as well as public schools come under the new tax law—so faculty athletic representatives are hurrying to arrange details of collection with Internal Revenue bureau attaches.

Canton Halfback Stars
On the chalk-lined field the one-man laurels last weekend rested again on the brow of Canton McKinley's halfback Jack Crider. The youngster scored two touchdowns and booted a pair of points to boost his two-game scoring total to 47 as the Bulldogs batted Akron South for the 16th straight time, 26 to 0. One of Crider's touchdowns was on a 55-yard run.

Massillon's mighty Tigers, state title claimants the last six years, scored a 28 to 6 win over Marblehead Mass., for their 35th conquest in a row, with Fred (Pokey) Blunt getting touchdowns on runs of 49 and 22 yards.

Jimmy Robinson's Canton Lehigh team, beaten only by McKinley, Massillon and Akron Buchtel since 1937, erased the Buchtel 1939 win with a 51 to 0 conquest for the prey of the Ohio High School Coaches' association.

McKinley meets Champaign, Ill., this weekend, while Massillon stacks up against Cleveland Cathedral Latin, champ of the Lakeside city.

Xenia O. S. & S. O. kept its long winning streak intact as Ken Pitzer, end, blocked a Xenia Central punt and fell on it in the end zone to win 6 to 0; Troy romped for 54 points against Tipp City, but allowed Coddington of the losers to gallop 80 yards for a touchdown with the second half kickoff; Portsmouth's usually powerful Trojans, losers of their first game, were held to a 6-6 tie by Columbus North; and Cambridge blocked a punt and fell on it for the touchdown that beat Chillicothe 6 to 0 in a central Ohio loop contest.

Other Contests
Tiffin Junior Order loomed as the Buckeye league champion, after its opening 0-0 tie with Toledo Waite, and its win over Fremont Ross. The home boys came from behind to take the conquest. Toledo Libbey edged Central Catholic 7 to 6 to lead the Maumee city's six squads with two victories, and is idle this week.

Four Columbus teams, Grandview, Upper Arlington, South and Bexley, came up with their second straight conquests. Grandview smothered Worthington 37 to 0, Arlington beat Delaware 20 to 0 while South and Bexley gained 7 to 6 verdicts over Columbus St. Mary and Mt. Vernon, respectively.

Joe Morbito's East Liverpool team rolled up more than 300 yards from scrimmage for the second straight week to beat Akron West 37 to 0, with triple-threat tailback Billy Green running 85 yards for a touchdown and tossing 35-yard passes.

Today's Guest Star
Mark Daily, Canton (Ill.) Daily Ledger: "We have a friend so old he can remember the time the Phillies won the National league pennant."

Series Sputter
The police went on duty at the Yankee stadium Sunday night, 48 hours ahead of schedule, expecting that some eager Dodge fans would start forming a line any minute.

Ducky Medwick says the Bums no longer mind being called the "Bums." Those Brooklyn fans can call you a bum and make it sound like a compliment," he maintains.

At Benton, the Tigers' hitless hurler, claims 1941 was his most successful season. It wasn't because of his 14-6 winning record but because he made three hits.

There's one department where the Dodgers figure they have a real edge over the Yankees—pinch hitting. Lew Riggs, Jim Waddell and Augie Galan all can connect in the clutch.

Arrivals from Boston hear that Lefty Grove has walked right out on the Red Sox and is telling friends he doesn't know what he will do next year.

Gas House Blues
There is sadness tonight for we Card fans.

Sadness that tears can't overcome. For the pennant we'd given to the Gas House gang was stolen away by Dem Bums.

Cigarette paper is now being produced in this country in large volume from domestically-grown flax straw.

Louis' Bout Last Night, In Which He Kayoed Nova, May Be Last for Awhile

By GAYLE TALBOT.
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—If Joe Louis has fought his last fight, then the world can say goodbye to a fighting man the likes of which it may never see again.

The right that Joe laid on Lou Nova's jaw in the sixth round last night at the Polo grounds, knocking the big Californian flat and preparing him for the technical knockout that came a moment later, was the sort of picture punch that a fight fan might wait a lifetime to see.

The big Negro, now awaiting his call into the Army, may never again deliver a single blow with the precision and power of the one that paralyzed Nova's senses and shocked a great crowd of almost 60,000 that had been slowly warming up to what it thought was a fairly even contest.

A year of absence from the heat of championship fighting might rob Louis of the perfect sense of timing and the deadly kick that went into that one climactic blow. If that happens, then it will be something to remember.

Nova was close to the ropes, near his own corner, boxing confidently and well, waiting for Joe to give him an opening. Louis, his face impassive as ever, was shuffling about and getting nowhere, apparently. The crowd had been doing some booing, and the champion's most ardent followers were waiting that "he never looked like that before."

Then suddenly, and simply, it happened. Louis feinted with his left and threw all of his 262 pounds behind his right. It struck the powerful Nova flush on the jaw and he dropped as if he had collided with a boxcar.

Though terribly hurt, Nova managed to gain his feet at the count of nine and to stagger into a barrage of blows. He shuddered under the impact of 20 or 30 cruel blows to his head and body as he sagged and floundered three-quarters of the way around the ring before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped it, just at the bell. But that one punch had ruined him.

Nova's Manager Bitter
"I just forgot to duck," said Nova, almost cheerfully, after the wobble came out of his legs and he had reached the dressing room. "Joe's the hardest hitter I ever fought. I saw the punch coming all the way, but I couldn't get out of range. It must have been a beauty."

Ray Carlen, Nova's manager, was bitter because Donovan had stopped the bout with only a second remaining of the sixth round. He argued, with seeming logic, that Lou should have been given the minute rest period to see if he could come out and fight.

As it was, the worst the challenger had to show for the night was a slight cut on the bridge of his nose and a shattered dream.

"I still think I can lick any other fighter in the world," he said, carefully excepting Louis.

Louis, as usual, didn't have a great deal to say. He did say that Nova had not hurt him, but that had been more or less obvious.

Navy's New Sky Giant Takes an Airing

Rollled from her hangar for the first time, the Martin XPB-2-M-1 bomber, built for the U. S. Navy, is shown at the Glenn L. Martin plant in Baltimore. The flying battleship has a 200-foot wingspread. The small ship in the foreground is a Culver Cadet and gives some idea of the new navy fighter's tremendous size. Details of armament and performance are a secret, but the ship will soon be put through exhaustive tests.

WINTER IS AID
TO MENTAL CLIMB
OF ALL CHILDREN

Those of Pre-School Age
Found to Be Affected by Seasonal Periods

(By United Press)
BERKELEY, Cal. — A seasonal variation in the mental growth of children has been established at the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of California.

Children, according to Dr. Harold E. Jones, director of the institute, become more mentally alert during the fall and winter months of the year than during the spring and summer months.

Similar findings had been made previously at the University of Iowa but the findings of the California institute carried the research one step farther.

Tests Made in School
The Iowa investigations were carried on with nursery school children and the deduction was made that the children gained in intelligence during the fall and winter months more quickly than during the spring and summer merely because they attended school.

The California institute, however, conducted its research on pre-school children and it was found that the same variation in intellectual development occurs in children who have not yet been to school as in those who are in school.

Schooling, therefore, has nothing to do with the variation, it was decided, and further investigation is under way to ascertain what is the fundamental causative factor. If this can be determined, it is believed that much might be accomplished in speeding up the mental growth of children and possibly of adults also.

Study 1,700 Children
The findings of the California institute were based upon the examination of 1,700 intelligence tests. Dr. Jones also made his own comparative tests on both nursery school and pre-school children.

The greatest mental growth was found to take place during November, December and January, being

Nazi Thrust Into Russia

This map shows at a glance, the extent of the German thrust into Russia, according to Nazi claims. While German land forces smashed at both ends and the middle of the Russian front, siege rings were tightened around Leningrad and Odessa, and the two great Russian naval bases of Kronstadt and Sevastopol rocked under Luftwaffe raids. The Nazis' most important victory to date was the capture of Kiev, third largest Red city and capital of the Ukraine.

three times greater than during May, June and July.

"It appears," Dr. Jones said, "that the seasonal variation has nothing to do with school."

"The differences in mental growth between the seasons are small and within a year may not be perceptible in individuals. But the differences become more apparent when the averages of groups are studied."

"Our future efforts will be directed toward older children and under different climatic conditions."

"GALL BLADDER TROUBLE WAS SOURCE OF MISERY TO ME," SAYS WARREN WIFE

Says she felt tired and sluggish most of the time. Suffered immeasurably from gall bladder disorder. Food wouldn't digest and had extensive gas formations.

MRS. FLORENCE KORECKY

This statement is typical of the countless ones that have been given right here in Salem recommending TONJON. Mrs. Florence Korecky who resides at 16 Bank NE, Warren, Ohio, was pleasantly relieved of her suffering after she took TONJON for a month and wants others to profit by her experience. Here is what she says.

"I haven't been feeling well for the last seven months and I felt sluggish and tired most of the time. I had been informed I had gall bladder trouble and I suffered extensively from this disorder. My food wouldn't digest and after I ate, gas formed profusely. I was nauseated sometimes and this annoyed me dreadfully. I was becoming very nervous and in general, I just felt miserable."

"I had read so much about TONJON helping others and it likewise helped me considerably in a very short time. I don't tire so easily, and naturally I feel more like doing my work. My gall bladder der disturbances has been greatly relieved so I don't suffer in that respect anymore. My food digests and I don't have gas collections every time I eat. My nerves have improved and I feel better in every way. TONJON was certainly efficient in my case."

Give these wonder medicines — TONJON 1-2-3 a chance to help you, too. The TONJON Health Representative invites you to visit him personally at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.
